PUERTO RICAN MOBS FIGHT CHICAGO POLICE

CHICAGO (AP)—Violent street fighting erupted in a predominantly Puerto Rican neighborhood on Chicago's North Side Sunday night after a policeman shot a Puerto Rican youth he said had threatened him with a gun. The rock-throwing mobs numbered more than 1,000, police said. The rioters tipped a police car on its side and burned it. Another squad car was heavily damaged. Windshields of many more were broken by rocks and hurled pop bottles. Fire was started in another police car, but quickly extinguished.

By midnight at least two dozen persons had been injured and more than 30 jailed. Police were pelted with rocks, bottles and debris as they tried to disperse the crowds in a 10-square-block area. Sporadic gunfire could be heard and looting was reported in several shops. Patrolman Thomas Munyon, 25, the officer who shot the youth, described the incident:

"My partner and I went into this alley to break up a fight. This guy started to pull a gun from under his shirt and I shot him. There were about 10 or 15 persons in the alley. So my partner and I put the wounded man into a car and got out of there." The wounded man was identified as Cruz Arellis, 20.

Munyon, married and the father of two, said he fired four times and didn't know how many shot hit Arellis. After the incident aroused crowds poured into the streets and police canine squads were sent into the area. A police dog bit Juan Melan, 29, and the crowd shouted disapproval. Melan was hoisted to the shoulders of friends and displayed to the crowd, then taken to a nearby hospital. The crowd moved one block south to the corner of Damen and Division. Rocks and bottles began to fall near policemen directing traffic away from the area.

Spanish-speaking police, youth workers and Catholic priests used bullhorns to plead with the crowds to leave. They were ignored or shouted down. A rock smashed a squad car windshield and a mass of screaming youths moved toward two empty police cars. They smashed windows and tore the hood off one, then moved to the other chanting. The car was rocked back and forth, then turned on its side. Almost immediately flames shot from the gas tank. A column of black, greasy smoke rose high above the street.

Firemen, arriving to fight the flames, were pelted with stones as they wrestled with hoses among the crowds. (See page 15, column 3)

SEVEN LIVES SNUFFED OUT!

Find Body Floating On Lake

Had Heart Trouble Day Before

BANGOR — The body of Walter Al Keene, 62, route 1, Hartford, was found floating near his boat on Duck lake near here Saturday. South Haven state police said.

Keene was pronounced dead at the scene by Van Buren medical examiner Dr. Joseph Cooper of Bangor.

Police said Keene had apparently been fishing alone and fell out of his boat to drown in about 12 feet of water, just 50 yards off the south shore of the lake.

Keene's wife told police he had suffered from an apparent heart attack on Friday but did not seek medical treatment. She said he left his home to go fishing around 7 a.m. Saturday.

According to troopers, the body was found floating around 5 p.m. by Henry Kraklaw, Jr., identified as an area fisherman. Kraklaw said he pulled the body to shore before calling police.

Mr. Keene was born Feb. 8, 1904, in Wisconsin, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Keene. He was married in South Bend, Ind. in 1927 to Mable Butts.

Survivors besides his widow include his step-mother, Mrs. Margaret Keene of South Bend; four step-daughters, Mrs. Leo Wise of Kalamazoo, Mrs. George McCombs of California, Mrs. Wayne Hutchins of Nevada and Miss Tempest Waldo of Chicago; one step-son, Fred Brant of Benton Harbor; three sisters, one brother, and one step-brother; and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Tuesday in the Calvin funeral home, Hartford. The Rev. William E. Goltz, retired Congregational minister, will officiate.

Burial will follow in Maple Hill cemetery.

FLAMING GAS

Bike Rider's 'Jet' Seized

A 13-year-old bicycle rider was picked up by St. Joseph police Sunday for "making like a jet plane."

The boy, picked up in the vicinity of Niles and Michigan avenues, had a can of flaming gasoline tied under the seat of his bicycle as he rode along the sidewalks.

The lad's "jet plane" and "engine" were confiscated by police. The boy and his father are to report to the fire chief Tuesday for a discussion of fire safety.

DEATH CAR BURNS: A car that carried five persons to their deaths in a nearly head-on crash south of Berrien Springs Saturday night, burst into flames as bodies were being removed. Berrien sheriff's deputies said sparks from a flare apparently touched off gas fumes. The driver, John La-

Rue, Jr., 25, of 2615 US-31, north of Niles, was pinned in the wreckage when flames erupted and was burned beyond recognition. Deputies said he was apparently dead when the fire started. Cause of the blaze is being investigated. (Art Gossard photo)

'Bud' Starr Believed Drowned

Was Fishing Off South Haven Pier

SOUTH HAVEN — City police and local Coast Guard station men today were investigating the possible drowning of James "Bud" Starr, a South Haven business man.

Police Chief Otto Buelow said Starr, about 48, was reported missing by his wife about 8 a.m. after he failed to return from fishing off the south pier on Lake Michigan. She said he left home around 5:30 a.m. and had planned to return by 7:30 a.m.

Investigating officers found Starr's fishing tackle box at the end of the pier and his car park in the city lot at the beach.

His fishing pole was gone.

Don Hardy, police chief of operations, said he saw a lone fisherman at the end of the pier about 7 a.m. Soon afterward, fog rolled in from the lake and the fog horn started blowing.

COULDN'T SWIM
Hardy said the fisherman was directly under the fog horn and it may have startled him.

Police said they learned Starr could not swim.

Coast Guard men began dragging the lake around the pier with grappling hooks and a request was sent for assistance by skindivers, police said.

Starr is president of Starr Leasing Corp., an auto leasing firm in South Haven. He and his wife have four children.

Turning Point Coming In Viet?

Many American Officials Seem To Think So

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — High administration officials believe expanding U.S. combat operations in Viet Nam may hasten a turning point in the war against Communist conquest in South Viet Nam.

A new tone of optimism is apparent in official comment here, although it is not universally shared. Some highly placed officials fear that the military gains now being registered may be frustrated by new political violence in South Viet Nam or by some strategic shift on the part of Communist forces.

However the dominant administration line as developed primarily by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and apparently supported by Secretary of State Dean Rusk is that political turmoil among the South Vietnamese this spring had caused only temporary — even though serious — setbacks to the anti-Communist fight and "substantial military progress" has been made in recent weeks.

In a joint news conference with Rusk at the White House Saturday, McNamara also told reporters that offensive operations by the United States, South Vietnamese and allied forces had frustrated plans of the Communist high command for a "monsoon offensive."

Other officials indicate that the total amount of damage which allied forces are now able to inflict on Communist forces is almost in balance with the gains which the Communists are able to make by way of infiltration of troops from North Viet Nam and recruitment in the south.

They regard this as an important measure of progress because a critical point in the war, from the administration view, is expected to be reached when Viet Cong and North Vietnamese losses exceed their infiltration and recruitment rate.

Johnson administration leaders have hoped that such a point might be reached early next year. Some now wonder whether it may develop more rapidly, depending on both military and political developments in South Viet Nam.

MORE TROOPS

McNamara disclosed Saturday that 18,000 more American troops will go to Viet Nam in the next 45 days, raising the total of U.S. forces in the south to 285,000.

Officials reported that almost all the U.S. reinforcements now going in would add to combat strength in the field rather than to base security and logistical operations.

Pessimists in the government argue that political opposition to the Saigon administration has knocked out anti-Communist offensives in South Viet Nam's chief northern provinces around Hue for several weeks. They also claim that large areas in other parts of the country are under Viet Cong domination with the Communist troops achieving protection by living as part of the population.

Policeman Shot, Dies In Hospital

Was Taking Man To Grand Rapids Jail

EVART (AP)—An Evart policeman shot in the abdomen while transporting a man to jail died today at Blodgett Memorial Hospital in Grand Rapids.

Dead was George Seman, 35. Held at Oscoda County Jail in Reed City pending formal charges was Carl E. Wineman, 24, of Evart, originally arrested Sunday after a family disturbance.

Wineman was arrested at the Evart apartment of his father-in-law, William Youngs, after the shooting of Seman.

State Police said Wineman had fired a shot through the apartment door and terrorized occupants for a time until Youngs subdued him and seized the gun, holding him until troopers arrived.

RADIOED IN

Authorities said Wineman's wife, Rachel, was staying with her parents. A family disturbance call brought Seman to the Youngs' home shortly after midnight Saturday.

Seman arrested Wineman and radioed he was taking his prisoner to the county jail, but failed to arrive. Passing motorists discovered the officer lying wounded along U.S. 10 west of Evart, his service pistol missing.

Head-On Car Crash Kills 5

Boy, Little Girl Also Die On Weekend

Seven persons, including five killed in one car in a terrific head-on crash south of Berrien Springs Saturday evening, were dead in the wake of one of Berrien county's bloodiest weekends.

The other two victims were a 23-month-old Benton Harbor girl killed before the eyes of her mother on County Line road near Coloma Saturday afternoon, and a seven-year-old boy who fell under the wheel of his father's tractor on a Berrien Springs farm Sunday.

The five deaths in the Berrien Springs crash, plus that of the little girl at Coloma, boosted to 22 the number of highway deaths in Berrien county this year. At this time last year there were 14 traffic fatalities.

The five killed south of Berrien Springs were all in one car driven by John LaRue, Jr., 25, 2615 US-31, north of Niles, who was killed.

Also killed in the 8:25 p.m. accident was his wife Grace LaRue, 27, her son by a previous marriage, Ronald Herron, 7; her brother, Alfred Selmon, Jr., 19, of Fire Fork, W. Va.; and Joyce Kiczanski, 14, 2615 US-31 Niles.

Victim of the County Line road tragedy in Coloma township was Pamela Lynn Hargrove, 23 months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Hargrove, 235 Pipestone street, Benton Harbor. She was struck by a car driven by Thomas W. Schaid, 21, Watervliet.

The tractor accident took the life of David Park Brown, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Blaine G. Brown, route 1, Berrien Springs. Donald Kimball, 14, Grantsville, W. Va., also a passenger in the LaRue car in the Berrien Springs crash, suffered multiple fractures of the right leg and is listed in fairly good condition in Niles Pawating hospital.

The LaRue car was hit head on by a car driven by Mark Gillette, 17, 1241 Broad street, Niles, according to Berrien county deputy sheriffs. They said Gillette was passing a line of cars when the LaRue auto approached. The accident is under investigation.

Gillette is in Niles Pawating hospital in fair condition, according to the hospital.

OTHERS INJURED

Three passengers in Gillette's car were also hospitalized. They are:

Christine Stafford, 18, 12 Mar-mont street, Niles, who is listed by South Bend Memorial hospital as in satisfactory condition with compound fractures of the legs and arms plus lacerations.

Gerald Vandagriff, 18, 1244 Rose drive, Niles, also is listed in satisfactory condition in South Bend Memorial hospital with fractures of both legs plus multiple lacerations.

Susan Hille, 15, 2687 Lake Shore drive, Niles, listed in fairly good condition in Pawating hospital with multiple lacerations.

Police said the Gillette car was traveling north on US-31-33 in the south-bound lane while passing a long string of cars.

BOTH SWERVE

LaRue's car, going south, swerved off the road to avoid a collision, deputies explained. However, they added, so did Gillette, and the two cars hit head on.

Gillette's car was traveling at between 50 and 65 miles per hour at the time and neither car had its headlights on, police said. It was dusk at the time, they added.

The five were pronounced dead at the scene by Dr. Ralph Gustin, assistant medical examiner.

LaRue was pinned in the wreckage when gas in a tank around the car burst into flames. He was reportedly burned beyond recognition. All others had been removed from the vehicle when the fire started, deputies from the Berrien Sheriff's department substation at Buchanan said.

The gas fumes were reportedly touched off when a spark from a flare fell near the car. Cpl. Charles Tiefenbach said he was standing in front of the car

7 MINUTES

Brief Power Failure In Local Area

An equipment failure this morning cut off electrical power for seven minutes throughout downtown Benton Harbor and surrounding areas from River-view drive to Fair avenue and Indiana & Michigan Electric Co. official reported.

John Banyon, I & M Benton Harbor division manager, said power was off from 8:52 to 8:59 a. m. when equipment failed in an oil circuit, which serves as a switch for the Main street station. Banyon said a manual switch was deployed to restore service. Cause of the failure is not yet known.

Banyon also reported that there apparently was little damage in the area during the severe overnight electrical storm.

Blockbuster Department

Whoever holds the office of President of the United States, wields more power than any single individual ever has before. What may not be so generally realized is that the Secretary of Defense, now in the person of Robert McNamara, is in a position of power second only to that of the President. The Department of Defense is the subject of an article by Carl L. Biemiller in a recent issue of The Orange Disc, a publication of the Sun Oil Company. As Biemiller puts it, "The President speaks; the Secretary moves the organization..."

The Department of Defense is an appalling organization, so huge and varied, as to almost defy human comprehension.

It is the biggest single buyer of most things sold in this country.

It is the nation's biggest employer and if the war in Viet Nam continues will have some 4,186,000 persons on its payroll, 3,093,000 of them in uniform. Even in relatively peaceful times, the Department is responsible for about 10 per cent of the nation's total employment, "...for some 6.7 million persons are engaged in defense work either directly by the Federal Government or by private contractors."

Defense money pays for half of the total national research and development effort.

With supplemental appropriations for carrying on the Vietnamese war, the Department is spending 10 per cent of the nation's gross national product and more than: "...half of everybody's Federal income taxes. And the end is not in sight."

These are dimensions of size chosen by Biemiller to describe the Department of Defense, and they are awesome indeed.

When our government was organized in 1789, the military power of the country was co-ordinated under the War Department. That its name should now be the Department of Defense, is indicative of the changing role of the military in the modern world. With the coming of the Atomic Age, in which all out war could very well destroy the civilized world, military power is primarily useful as a means to deter wars rather than fight them.

The thinking of the military man has had to undergo a radical change.

Biemiller points out, "...politically usable military power might be a weapon as prosaic as a can of beans as well as exotic as a Nike Zeus unit to destroy enemy satellites." Thus it is that the Department of Defense is concerned with everything from "...school and housing programs within the nations with whom the United States has mutual defense pacts" to the development, operation and security of the new Combat Operations Center of the North American Air Defense Command, buried under Colorado's 10,000 foot Mt. Cheyenne.

In Monterey, California, it runs one of the world's most exceptional language schools; 60 foreign tongues are taught. The Department's Corps of Engineers is concerned with the maintenance of the nation's rivers and harbors. It was involved in the exploration of Antarctica. It is concerned with oceanographic studies of the sea, not only for military purposes but as a possible source of food and raw materials that will be needed to sustain the soaring populations of the future.

It is concerned with medical advances applied to the saving of human life as well as with the fact that if there are 210 million Americans in 1970, 149 million might be killed by a properly timed atomic attack.

Biemiller observes that while all this is going on, "...the Department of Defense, today the key cabinet rank division of President Johnson's Executive Department, goes about its business, our business. It is probably the most complex, intricate, and highly organized agency ever created by any governmental system."

Considering the dangerous paths that lie ahead and the pivotal position which the United States holds in the affairs of the world today, one can only hope the massive, many sided Department of Defense does its work well.

Computerized Cow

It was inevitable that electronic data processing would leave its impact on the farm, as it has on industry and some day may do in the home. Who though would have predicted old Elsie would have the milk she gives and the feed she consumes measured by a computer, which reports regularly on her performance to the farmer?

Such is the case on about 10,000 farms in the United States, and the number of dairy farms automating their herds is increasing under the steady pressure of competition and government regulation.

Dairy farmers in the northeastern states who are members of a new type cooperative receive monthly reports from a computer located at Cornell University. These reports are compiled by the computer from information gathered by milk samplers who visit the farms each month.

Included in the computerized data is the amount and butterfat content of milk produced by each cow, how much profit each cow makes above feed cost, how much feed each cow should receive, when each cow should be bred and which bull it should be mated with, and how long each cow should rest after calving.

Computers are beginning to go beyond mere dollar and cents reporting for farmers, projecting in some cases the investment of a particular farm would require to produce a desired yield. In some instances computers have been utilized to make farm management decisions such as what labor distribution is the most efficient and whether a given farm could more easily increase its profitability by adding more acreage, obtaining new implements or modernizing its present setup.

Farmers who farmed "by the book" once were derided by their neighbors. Today, the farmer who doesn't employ scientific methods of farming is almost as rare as an auto mechanic who has never seen an automatic transmission.

Exotic equipment such as computers will never appear on every farm, but those enterprises with sufficient acreage, herds and labor to benefit from a maximum utilization of all its resources had better look twice before deciding the electron tube cannot produce.

Pressures In Europe

While inflationary pressures in the U.S. may be slowing a trifle, Western Europe still is forced to take measures against expanding prices, wages and credit. The Belgian National Bank has raised its discount rate from 4 1/2 to 5 1/2 per cent, following similar action by the central banks of West Germany and the Netherlands.

Balkan wages are more closely tied to the consumer price index than elsewhere in Europe, a situation complicated this year by wage awards greatly in excess of productivity. The rise in the discount rate, therefore, should not have been any great surprise to American and European money markets.

With discount rates in Europe ranging up to Great Britain's 6 per cent, Belgium's action puts her in line with other countries. France, which expects to maintain its current 3 1/2 per cent rate, is the exception. But then France stands apart, fiscally as well as politically.

Peaks of a partly submerged mountain chain form the 7,100 islands and islets that make up the Philippines, the National Geographic says. Only 730 islands are inhabited, and 60 per cent are unnamed.

Letters To The Editor

Editor, The Herald-Press:

RACIAL UNITY DAY

Racial unity is very much on the public mind today. Racial unrest is a major concern throughout the world. Yet the solution to the racial problem seems difficult to come by. There appear to be no easy answers and although much time and energy is spent seeking solutions, progress comes slowly.

However, more than a hundred years ago Baha'u'llah, founder of the Baha'i World Faith, proclaimed the principle of the oneness of mankind and gave us some guidelines on which to base our thinking. It is to His words that I would like to direct your attention and the attention of your readers. For example, He said:

"Close your eyes to racial differences and welcome all with the light of oneness." And in another place: "Ye are the fruits of one tree and the leaves of one branch. Deal ye with one another with the utmost love and harmony. So powerful is the light of unity that it can illuminate the whole world."

Baha'u'llah points out that "ye dwell in one world, and have been created through the operation of one Will." How, then, should you act toward others? "Blessed is he who mingled with all men in a spirit of utmost kindness and love."

Finally He says: "The earth is one country and mankind its citizens." "The well-being of mankind, its peace and security are unattainable unless and until its unity is firmly established."

Such then are some of the precepts of the Baha'i Faith. These words of Baha'u'llah form the basis for the conduct of Baha'is everywhere. Baha'is believe that the oneness of mankind is so important that they set aside the second Sunday in June each year as Racial Unity Day in order to call this to the attention of all.

On June 12 Baha'is all over the world mark this day with prayers and special observances.

The Baha'i Group of St. Joseph takes this means of bringing the message of Baha'u'llah on race to the Twin Cities.

Inside Washington

By HENRY CATHCART

WASHINGTON—New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller's support for Michigan Gov. George Romney as the 1968 Republican presidential nominee has kindled some renewed interest in the fight between moderate and conservative Republicans that lie in the offing.

It might, therefore, be of some value to run a brief check on 1964 GOP presidential candidate Barry Goldwater's current plans and thinking. Goldwater is pointing his sights toward running for the Senate in 1968 against Sen. Carl Hayden, D-Ariz. Hayden is the Senate's senior member in years of service and holds a position of great power. If Goldwater can unseat him it would be a feather in his cap and would go far to erase his poor showing in the 1964 presidential election.

Goldwater's followers insist he has no plan to seek the 1968 GOP presidential nomination, but rather intends to use the speaking platform to keep himself before the public in order to influence the Republican choice.

Meanwhile, another effort to strengthen the conservative faction in the GOP is taking shape in the form of a magazine that will be launched in August to spread the conservative gospel among Catholics.

L. Brent Bozell, a former Goldwater ghost-writer, says he is founding the publication because "today the church seems to speak with almost exclusively left-wing accents."

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

An actress who had received a magnificent diamond necklace as a gift from an admirer, hit upon what she thought was a fool-proof device for safeguarding it. She simply left it conspicuously open on her dressing table when she went out with a note nearby reading "This is just an imitation, dear burglar. The original is stashed carefully away in my safe-deposit box."

One night, however, she returned to find the necklace gone. In its place was this p enailed message: "Thanks, lady—the substitute is just what I wanted. I'm a substitute myself. The burglar who usually cases this hotel is away on vacation."

When Horace Greeley was editor of the New York Tribune in the 1860's, he once dashed off a last-minute editorial that concluded in print, "Tis five, 'tis fifty; 'tis 'tis, 'tis five."

"You infernal ass," roared Greeley to the baffled compositor. "I was quoting Hamlet:

When the Norwegian North-South pair played the hand, they bid a grand slam on the sequence shown. Declarer won the club lead with the ace, cashed the king on which she discarded a heart, and then played a heart to the ace, catching the king.

But due to the 4-1 division in both red suits, declarer now found herself unable to utilize the long heart suit, and, in an

However, with the king being badly placed, and having lost control of trumps, South's efforts more or less collapsed and she wound up going down four—400 points.

The British North-South pair were not so ambitious and they stopped at six diamonds on this bidding:

The rest of the play was now easy. After discarding a club on the ace of spades, Mrs. Hiron led a heart and finessed the eight, after which she ruffed a heart and drew trumps. Her hand was now high and the outcome was that Mrs. Hiron made thirteen tricks for a score of 1,390 points.

BORN TODAY

Irish poet and dramatist William Butler Yeats was born at Sandymount, near Dublin, in 1865. Because his father, James Butler Yates, was a distinguished artist and member of the Royal Hibernian Academy, William studied art for more than three years before deciding upon a literary career.

His first volume of verse, "The Wanderings of Oislin," published in 1889, was followed by a succession of poems, plays and Irish tales. By 1897 he had become interested in the formation of an Irish theater and with the help of Lady Gregory, Edward Martyn and other friends, the first performance of the Irish Literary Theater took place in Dublin in 1899.

This theater gradually developed and by 1904 was firmly established as the Abbey Theater, of which Yeats was a director until his death and contributed many verse and prose plays to its repertory.

An ardent Nationalist throughout his life, it was only natural for the government of the Irish Free State to name him one of its first senators in 1922. The following year he won

speaking of YOUR HEALTH

By Lester L. Coleman, M. D.

How should the site of a vaccination for small pox be protected?

For the first two days after vaccination, the area needs little or no protection. When the vesicle, or blister, appears it should be protected by a light, dressing. Children, especially, must be kept from scratching and otherwise irritating the spot of the vaccination.

When the site is kept dry the healing seems to be somewhat more rapid and uncomplicated.

Occasionally the scab becomes infected and must be treated with wet dressings in the same way as any other slight skin infections.

Can black and blue marks appear on the skin without any known injury?

The black and blue marks represent small but definite hemorrhages beneath the skin. The exact cause can usually be determined by the study of the bleeding and clotting time and by the platelet count in the blood.

If these and other studies fail to show any abnormality in the clotting mechanism then the explanation lies in the fact that there were slight injuries that had been unnoticed.

There is a familial and hereditary condition in which such discolorations occur. There seems to be little or no value in the use of vitamin C or the expensive flavinoids for this bruising tendency.

Is there any special danger to a pregnant woman who has diabetes?

Diabetic women have successfully carried their pregnancies to full and normal terms. In order to do so they must be under constant medical supervision.

The diet must be rigidly controlled. Urine and blood must be examined, at regular intervals throughout pregnancy. Infants born by diabetic mothers tend to be larger than most newborns.

The safety of pregnancy in the diabetic depends, of course, on the general physical condition and the severity of the diabetes.

Before contemplating motherhood, the diabetic is subjected to intensive study to give the mother and the child the best opportunity for sustained good health.

Opening lead—jack of clubs.

This dramatic hand occurred in the match between Great Britain and Norway in the Ladies European Championship played in Torquay in 1961.

When the Norwegian North-South pair played the hand, they bid a grand slam on the sequence shown. Declarer won the club lead with the ace, cashed the king on which she discarded a heart, and then played a heart to the ace, catching the king.

But due to the 4-1 division in both red suits, declarer now found herself unable to utilize the long heart suit, and, in an effort to recover control of the hand, she shifted her attention to spades.

However, with the king being badly placed, and having lost control of trumps, South's efforts more or less collapsed and she wound up going down four—400 points.

The British North-South pair were not so ambitious and they stopped at six diamonds on this bidding:

The play at this table went much more smoothly when declarer (Mrs. Hiron) won the club lead with the ace, played a diamond to the ace (cashing the ten), cashed the ace of hearts (catching the king), and then cashed the king of diamonds.

The rest of the play was now easy. After discarding a club on the ace of spades, Mrs. Hiron led a heart and finessed the eight, after which she ruffed a heart and drew trumps. Her hand was now high and the outcome was that Mrs. Hiron made thirteen tricks for a score of 1,390 points.

As a result, the British team gained 1,790 points on this one deal, which proved to be more than enough to swing the match in their favor.

CHALLENGER QUILTS S.J. SCHOOL BOARD RACE

Gives No Reason For Withdrawal

Former Sticker Candidate-In Again, Out Again

Controversial school board critic James E. Challenger has made an election - eve bid to get out of the St. Joseph Board of Education race - after trying to get in it the past year.

Ballots listing his name were distributed this morning to early voters because the date for officially withdrawing from the race was May 17.

Yesterday Mrs. Challenger delivered a letter to the home of Supt. Richard E. Ziehm. She reported it contained a statement that he was withdrawing.

No reason was given. The announcement on Challenger, 40, of 1107 Highland avenue, St. Joseph, president of two La Porte, Ind., heating equipment firms, was a bizarre turn of events. Challenger once went to court in an attempt to get his name on the ballot.

Mrs. Challenger said her husband "did not have a statement to make at this time" regarding why he was withdrawing, but she said he definitely would not serve even if elected.

FOUR CANDIDATES
The ballot lists four candidates running for the two four-year terms. They are Ray M. Dumke, incumbent, Harold J. Elias, Challenger and James C. Mason.

Not affected would be the race among three candidates for the two-year unexpired term of Donald W. Weiland who resigned after moving out of the school district. The candidates in that race are Arthur Franzen, Louis F. Schroeder and Douglas Burr.

Challenger filed a nominating petition last year to seek a four-year term on the board and immediately challenged Board President Collins Gillespie.

Later, the petitions were ruled out because Challenger did not own property at the time of filing. Challenger challenged the ruling, saying he could not find any provision in the election laws that said he had to own property at the time of filing and added that if elected and if owning property was a condition of being on the board he would have such property.

Circuit Judge Philip A. Had sell denied Challenger's petition and Challenger, an attorney, ran on stickers.

He charged Gillespie with interference with school administrators. He organized a staff, mostly women, who distributed stickers at polls. Challenger polled 717 votes to 1,134 for Dr. Dean K. Ray and 859 for Gillespie.

NOT APPOINTED
On the basis of his showing in the 1965 election—in which he claimed 45 per cent of the voters supported him—Challenger criticized the board for not appointing him to the 60-man Citizens Advisory Council set up last winter.

Mrs. Challenger in a statement last Dec. 17 called the Advisory Council nothing more than a rubber stamp committee for the school board.

Lightning Hits Home

Firemen from Benton township station three were called to 386 Waverly drive at 3:15 this morning where lightning apparently had struck the house.

Lt. Lawrence Harris said the bolt knocked out fuses and light bulbs and did minor damage to the house's wiring, but did not cause a fire. The firemen did not have the name of the occupants of the house.

St. John's Class Given Mission

Graduates Told To Go, Make Disciples Of All

The class of 1966 departed from St. John's high school Sunday instructed to "go and make disciples of all men."

The Rev. Raymond Rademacher, assistant pastor of St. Joseph Catholic parish, paraphrased Christ in charging the graduates to practice a Christian vocation as they go on to higher education or enter a secular occupation.

He also noted that maturity brings responsibility and "your degree of freedom depends on the responsibility that you accept."

Fr. Rademacher said Christ was never stronger in the world than today. But the present needs are greater with materialism, communism, and "indifference" threatening "to overthrow religion, law and order."

The Vatican council first called by the late Pope Paul provided guidelines "to shake us out of this lethargy we had fallen into." Results of the council gave greater participation to laymen in church affairs.

SEEKING LIKENESS

"Let us see in our neighbor the likeness of God in whose image he has been created," Fr. Rademacher declared. He told the graduates of the Benton Harbor parochial school it is time for them to "start giving back some of the love, attention and care that has been fostered on you."

Diplomas were conferred by Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph R. Byrne, pastor of St. John's. He also conducted solemn benediction assisted by the Revs. James Barrett, John Keegan and Rademacher.

Music for the commencement in the church was provided by Organist James Staudt.

Spiritual Renewal Is Asked

Message For St. Joe Catholic High Graduates

St. Joseph Catholic high school seniors heard Rev. Fr. James Sullivan call for the same renewal the church is going through on a world-wide basis.

Speaking at the 34th graduation in St. Joseph Catholic church filled with 52 graduates and their parents and friends, Father Sullivan said, "Pope Paul reminds us of St. Augustine's saying, 'Let us rejoice and give thanks that we have become not only Christians but Christ. We begin to realize that the renewal of the Church demands the personal renewal of each of us who calls himself Christ.'"

"This renewal demands an involvement, a commitment," Father Sullivan continued. "We cannot stand apart from the Church and criticize her, for in so doing, we criticize nobody so much as ourselves. Rather, each of us must be convinced of 'a service and ministry of truth and charity.'"

DEMANDS SEEN

Father Sullivan, who served as assistant during the time many in the graduating class were going through high school, said: "Both the Church and the world demand a personal renewal from us. This renewal does not involve change nearly as much as it implies the infusion of 'fresh spiritual vigor into the Mystical Body of Christ.'"

Father Sullivan listed three conditions the graduates must follow. He said:

"The first condition for our part in the Church's program of renewal demands an awareness of the mystery of being a member of the church. This demands from each of us a willingness to study, to meditate.

"The second is more difficult. We must not only admire poverty, but we must practice that poverty which caused the Savior to exclaim, 'Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of God. We must be Christians, 'teach the world that spiritual goods take precedence over economic goods.'

"The third demand," Father Sullivan, states, is "We have a responsibility also before our brothers who are still separated from us, and before the entire world so that all share with us the gift of God."

WHITE AND GRAY
The 23 boys were clad in grey caps and gowns and the 29 girls in white.

Looking For Another Site

SOUTH HAVEN—The Harry LaBar Drake park was to officially become a state-owned park during ceremonies planned at the park south of here today.

Arthur Elmer, director of the parks division, Michigan Department of Conservation, was scheduled to present a check for $128,575.28 to Van Buren county officials at 11 a.m.

The money will be a reimbursement of funds spent by the county board of supervisors and road commission to purchase the 300-acre site and establish a park in 1964. The park was dedicated last May and has been used on a limited basis as a picnic and swimming area.

Conservation department officials have already proposed a gradual development and enlargement of the park to some 600 acres at a cost of up to $2 million. Plans are to develop the park, located at the Covert South Haven township line and fronting Lake Michigan, into a year-around recreation area.

Representatives of the county road commission acted as Van Buren park trustees when they accepted the check. They are already looking into the possibility of investing this money in another proposed park site somewhere near the center of the county.

Historical Marker Is
ApprovedHonoring Johnston
In South Haven

SOUTH HAVEN—The Michigan Historical Commission has approved the erection of a historical marker here within the next month in recognition of the development of the South Haven peach varieties by local horticulturist Stanley Johnston.

The marker will be financed through the South Haven Chamber of Commerce, according to chamber manager William Reed. It is being prepared by Sewall Studios, Marietta, Ohio, at a cost of $250.

When it arrives, a special dedication program will be planned at the South Haven experiment station, Johnston's workshop for Michigan State University for the past 45 years, Reed said.

The text will be etched in one and one-half inch iron lettering and portions will read as follows:

"The Haven peach varieties were developed here by Michigan State University's South Haven Experiment Station, under the direction of Professor Stanley Johnston. From 1924 to 1963, eight yellow-fleshed freestone varieties were selected from more than 21,000 cross-bred seedlings. Redhaven was the first red-skinned commercial peach variety. It is now the most widely planted freestone peach variety in the world...."

RUNS TILL SUNDAY

'New Life Crusade'
Opens In St. Joseph

An audience of 850 attended the opening night of the New Life Crusade at St. Joseph high school Sunday evening to hear Evangelist Jack Van Impe speak on "Wise and Foolish Christians."

The services are being sponsored by the Southwestern Conservative Ministers' fellowship. Twenty-seven Twin Cities and area churches are cooperating. Van Impe emphasized that Christianity is personal and requires daily obedience to Christ's commandments (teachings). God, he said, holds man responsible for the knowledge he possesses and all will have to give an account of their actions before the judgment seat of Christ (1 Cor. 5:14).

Rapping those who are so busy with self that they have no time for God, the speaker stressed that what man does on earth lasts about 70 years; what he does for God lasts eternally.

He concluded with the Biblical quotations: "If you love me, keep my commandments" (John 14:15) and the Lord's instructions to His disciples: "You shall be witnesses unto me" (Acts 1:8).

Robert Parks, minister of music and youth at the First Baptist church, St. Joseph, led the 96-voice choir. Dee Schultz was at the piano and Mrs. Weldon Cook was at the organ.

The theme chorus for the week is "God Is Not Dead," based on the crusade's Biblical key verse, John 5:12, "He that hath the Son hath life; and he that hath not the Son of God hath not life."

PLAYS ACCORDION
Evangelist Van Impe played special selections on his accordion, which resembles both the accordion and organ in tones. His wife, Rexella, sang two solos. Tonight Van Impe will play "The Train Song" for the children.

Special nights this week include: "Church Loyalty or Love Your Pastor Night," on Wednesday; Music Night on Friday; and Youth Night on Saturday. About the evangelist will tell about his conversion from night club life.

The series will end Sunday night, June 19, when Evangelist Van Impe will speak on "Why I Believe the Lord Is Coming." Meetings begin nightly at 7:30.

SOUTH HAVEN—A 21-year-old South Haven man was arrested here Saturday night after allegedly stabbing a police officer, his estranged wife and another woman during a melee at the Nichols hotel, city police said.

Patrolmen said Charles Jones, Jr., 21, 406 Fruit street, was subdued by tear gas in the hotel lobby and jailed on a charge of felonious assault shortly before midnight.

They said three squad cars and five officers responded to a call by hotel owner Mrs. Elizabeth Nichols at 11:11 p.m.

Police said they heard screams from a second floor room and were forced to kick in the door. They said they found Jones and Ruby Echols, 23, a hotel boarder, involved in a fight.

Before they were able to break up the fight, police said Miss Echols escaped through the open door with Jones in hot pursuit. He was later apprehended in the hotel lobby with the help of tear gas.

Jones was charged with stabbing Miss Echols twice in the chest, cutting his estranged wife, Mary Lee Jones, 19, on the right hand and wrist, and cutting patrolman Glenn Pulliam on the left wrist, during the incident.

All were treated for cuts and bruises at South Haven Community hospital and released.

The women described the weapon Jones allegedly used as a kitchen knife with a long blade. The knife was not found, police said.

Mrs. Jones said she had been visiting Miss Echols in her hotel room when Jones attacked them. She said she and her husband had been separated for about a month.

B.H. Baptists Dedicate Center

Children And Youth Building

Wilson Speaks At Homecoming Day

God provides man with an ever-present opportunity for success, but whether he accepts it or not is optional, W. Hearshill Wilson, layman of Covenant Baptist Church, Detroit, and corporation consultant for 10 of the big giants of industry, told a large audience at Benton Harbor First Baptist church Sunday afternoon.

Wilson was speaker at the dedication of the church's handsome new $130,000 Center for Children and Youth. His topic was "God's Doors on Silent Hinges."

The dedicatory service was a part of Homecoming Day and was attended by ministers and lay representatives of various Twin Cities and area denominations as well as civic leaders, and representatives of the Berrien County Council of Churches, the Benton Harbor-St. Joseph United Church Women and the Benton Harbor Kiwanis club of which the church's pastor, the Rev. Robert A. Behnken, is a member.

Many former members of the church, now living in other parts of Michigan, Ohio, and Illinois, were noted in the congregation.

The service was followed by an open house tour of the new facility and refreshments in its lower floor Fellowship Hall.

Wilson said that God's doors, while they swing on silent hinges, are always open. God has only one requisite for crossing the threshold. It is that

Six Hurt In Berrien Car Crash

Five Victims Are From Indiana

Six persons were treated for minor cuts and bruises following a two-car crash Sunday afternoon at the intersection of M-140 and Napier avenue, Bainbridge township, Berrien deputies reported.

Injured were Lora Mitchell, 69, passenger in a car driven by Chester E. Mitchell, 79, route 1, East Claire; Adis Ousley, 28, Pierceton, Ind., driver of the other car, Allen Shepherd, Manchester, Ind.; Ruth Shepherd, 19, Manchester; Loretta Ousley, 4, Pierceton; and Joyce Ousley, 26, Pierceton. All were treated at Watervliet Community hospital and released, Deputy Jack Page reported.

Another two-car crash brought injuries to four persons Saturday, deputies said. A car driven by Alvin Sonnenberg, 18, Boyer road, Coloma, crashed into the rear of one driven by Norman Bruce Pierson, 27, of Climax, Mich., according to Deputy Robert Kimmerly.

Pierson and a passenger in his car, Gerald Bailey, were treated at Watervliet Community hospital for cuts and bruises suffered in the crash. Refusing treatment for minor injuries were Steve Wilkens, 18, and Gary Leitz, 15, both route 4, Coloma, who had been passengers in Sonnenberg's car, Kimmerly reported.

DRIVER HURT

Hospitalized briefly, following a one-car accident Saturday on US-31, Hagar township, was George Heffner, 55, route 3, Coloma. Heffner suffered bruises when his car apparently went out of control and rolled over, Sgt. Don Jewell and Deputy Kimmerly said. He was admitted to Mercy hospital for observation and discharged Sunday. Heffner was charged with reckless driving, deputies said.

A 32-year-old Baroda woman, Lela Mae Hoge, complained of back and side pains after her car crashed into a home at the intersection of Red Arrow highway and Lemon Creek road Saturday, Deputy Douglas Tiefenbach said.

She told Tiefenbach she was turning from Red Arrow to Lemon Creek when she lost control of her car and crashed into the home of James Bazah. She said she would rolled over, Sgt. Don Jewell and Deputy Kimmerly said. The woman was charged with failure to have her car under control, and driving without a driver's license in her possession.

Beach Bag Stolen

A straw beach bag, containing some men's and women's clothing and a purse with $30 in it was taken from a car that had pulled into a roadside park near Lake Michigan Beach Sunday, Berrien sheriff's deputies said. The theft was reported by Thomas L. Reece, Kalamazoo, owner of the car. Items in the beach bag belonged to Reece and his wife, deputies said.

SENIOR TOM SAWYERS: Three members of the St. Joseph high school Class of 1966 paint retaining wall on Lakeview avenue Saturday after some, one, possibly fellow classmates, spray-painted anti-communist slogans on the 200-foot wall. Earlier, other class members had painted wall over, but the repaint job did not match rest of wall, so City of St. Joseph provided gray paint and three seniors—from left—Chris Lannert, John Wismer and Jim Brandt painted the wall again. he, who crosses, give himself and his talents, such as they might be, wholeheartedly and completely to God to use as He will.

Those who do this, the speaker continued, place the burden of responsibility for their future completely, and with faith, on God and He rewards them richly.

FAILURE

Those, who do not, place the burden for their future entirely on their own shoulders, often with resultant failure after failure.

He mentioned several persons, whose lives had been fraught with failures and misfortunes, who became brilliant successes after choosing to go through God's door.

Among these was the great prayer authority, Dr. Glenn Clark, who, several years ago, spoke at a series of Twin Cities church meetings with the result that many local Glen Clark prayer groups were organized, some of which still exist.

Wilson pointed out that only a horse, whose front feet are in complete alignment with his hind feet, can maneuver successfully through rugged mountain terrain where, being out of alignment even a half inch, could be fatal.

He mentioned that man's feet must be in such alignment with God's. This comes only, he said, through complete surrendering to God's will.

He cited an example in his own life in which God, in a month of slack business, brought him more engagements than he could possibly fill, but

Fire Rages In California

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP)—Fifteen hundred fire fighters were in virtual hand-to-hand combat today against a 20,000-acre brush and pine fire which threatened the mating area of the nearly extinct California condors in Los Padres National Forest.

"It is strictly a hand-to-hand show," said U.S. Forest Service officer Ray Dalton. "There are steep bluffs, big canyons. The wind is coming from the east, which makes it more dangerous."

LDS HOST OFFICERS: The importance of the family in helping children grow up morally strong and to be good citizens was stressed at the St. Joseph Branch Conference of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints at the Benton Harbor church Sunday. Branch officer hosts from left are: Richard J. Olsen, first counselor; Ansel C. Herron, president; and Richard F. Graham, second counselor.

SAFETY CHECK STARTS: Sandy McGowan, Miss Blossomtime of 1966, snips ribbon to start auto safety check in St. Joseph Saturday. St. Joseph Mayor William Rill holds ribbon at left. In toy car is six-year-old Randall (Randy) Wolf, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Wolf. By the time safety council crew got inspection line set up a half dozen cars were in line. All told approximately 612 were checked, 187 at the Lake boulevard station in St. Joseph; 200 at the station in the Sears' parking lot, Benton Harbor, and 225 at Fairplain Plaza, Benton Township. Two lines will be in operation next Saturday (June 18) at Fairplain Plaza from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. for those who missed the check last week or who after finding something wrong, had it fixed. ## Benton Boy On Bike Is Hit By Car

A 12-year-old Benton township boy who was struck by a car while riding a bicycle Friday night was reported in good condition by Margaret Lyle hospital today.

Ronald Wayne Richey, 12, 532 Midway drive, received a broken leg, hospital authorities said. He was injured when his bicycle was struck by a car driven by Ralph T. Patterson, 48, of 403 John street, Benton Harbor, according to township police.

The accident occurred at the intersection of Bridgman avenue and Territorial road, according to Thomas Cassidy, investigating officer. Patterson was not ticketed.

Three persons from Lapeer were treated for bumps and bruises at Mercy hospital and then released following a car-truck accident at Euclid avenue and Territorial road Friday night, according to township police.

Sgt. Paul Farris said a car driven by Mary Anna Cunningham, 34, of Flint, collided with a truck driven by Joseph D. Siriano, 51, of 620 Eloise drive, Fairplain.

The injured, all passengers in the Cunningham car, were Katherine Cunningham, 26, and Sandra and Julie Cunningham, ages 5 and 7, respectively. Farris wrote Mary Cunningham a ticket for failure to yield the right-of-way.

Twilight Approaches Surveyor I

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Bitter cold darkness is approaching America's shutterbug Surveyor I spacecraft, threatening to shut off—and perhaps end forever—the stream of quality pictures radioed to earth.

Twilight will overtake the 620-pound spacecraft at 11 a.m. (EDT) Tuesday, bringing with it a drastic change in surface temperatures on the moon, scientists at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory said.

From a high of about 250 degrees Fahrenheit at high noon last week, the temperature will drop to about 260 degrees below zero at lunar midnight. The moon's days and nights are two weeks long in earth time.

Unless there's a little power left in Surveyor's batteries, the cold could permanently damage the myriad intricate electronic systems, they said, preventing further transmission of pictures. Scientists said they intend to run the craft's camera as far into the dark period as possible, aiming at getting some good shots of the dark lunar landscape.

They've already received 8,494 pictures from the moon, reshooting many of the earlier scenes to pick up any differences revealed by the changing angle of the sun.

Strike Vote

DETROIT (AP)—Some 3,000 utilities workers planned a strike vote today following a breakdown Sunday in contract negotiations with Detroit Edison Co., already hurt by a line-men's strike.

GREATER VOICE?

MOSCOW (AP)—Warsaw Pact nations are reported seriously divided over Romanian demands that each member have a greater voice in decisions of the Soviet-dominated alliance.
